Long time ago in our ancestors day there was a story about a Muruk and a Kokomo. They were the best friend and lived in the same tree in different branch and do things together. In their house were they lived the Muruk plan for them to do something which they had came up with Muruk thought was useful.

Early in the morning Muruk woke up and made a big fire and sat down near the fire waiting for Kokomo to get up. He sit for a long time and Kokomo woke up from his bed or nest. Muruk called out to Kokomo and said come down and let me tell you my plan for us to followed. Kokomo answered and came down and said closed to Muruk.

When they were sitting Muruk told him to make a garden for them to plant some food crops for themselves. They both were agreed and said tomorrow we start and in the afternoon they shapend their working tools and got prepared for tomorrow.

Next day they woke up early and got their working tools and Muruk flew past them followed by Kokomo. When they arrived they put their belonging aside under the shadow of a big tree and go on clearing the bush. While they still cutting the sun went down. They flew back home without finished clearing. Next day in the morning they went back and cleared to end end.

For three weeks they both have a rest in their house. Only find food for them to survived. They was very happy and made fun to something else and kept them with happy life.

After three weeks over on the last week of one month they burned the garden. When the two days over from the burning on and the three day of that week early in the morning they went to cleared the garden.

In the garden they all put their belonging a side in the same place and started clearing the garden. When Kokomo was busy clearing he saw Muruk have a rest and made fun to Kokomo while he was working in the sun. Kokomo was very angry but he did not show it to Muruk. He kept cleaning the garden and told Muruk to flag back home and cooked food ready for them. Muruk Muruk flew off with happy life. When he arrived home he did not cook same food. He find same fruits in the bush and ate it. He came back and have a happy sleep with out knowing that it's already dark and also not knowing that his friend are now at home.

When Kokomo arrived he noticed that Muruk had not prepared any food for him. So Kokomo was very hungry and wick. He just sat down slowly and started cooking. When it cook he took it out from the fire and ate it and he went to bad.

From the bad he made a plan to destroy Muruk so he would not be a friend of him. So early in the morning Kokomo told Muruk to fly past to the garden and Muruk off. When Muruk flew away, Kokono used his beak to drill through the branch that his nest was build. Muruk waited for so long so he flew back home and saw Kokono resting in his nest. Muruk flew through his nest and sat down quietly for about two second the branch of his nest broke and he fell on the ground. From the ground he notice that he was so injured. His two wings broke. So Kokono made fun to him. Muruk was very angry and said you are hoty. You have not thought for what we do in a previous day. Muruk was sad so he have no way to fly up again. And now he became animal on the land that you see today using is two legs.
